acknowledged by the Minister of Tourism. Renewed on 27th March 2001 the French Government officially recognise:

- the quality charter "Clévacances" which is based on the ministerial decree, in relation to the classing of tourist accommodation, issued on 28th December 1976 and renewed by the decrees dated 8th January 1993 and 1st April 1997.
- The abilities of the team of "Clévacances" professionals who inspect and rate tourist accommodation in collaboration with the Department Prefects.

"Clévacances" accommodation or rooms meet three essential criteria:

- The environment: it is assessed with reference to the exterior presentation (building, surroundings, site...) and the total absence of nuisances: (noise, foul smells, encumbrance...)
- The interior arrangements: comfort, furniture, decoration, equipments, bathroom/toilet, ratio rooms/number of guests; these elements are taken into account to award the "Clévacances" grading.
- Welcome and assistance: the quality of welcome and assistance offered by the owner, or representative, are key elements to grant the distinction "Clévacances" France.

A guest warmly welcomed will be your best publicity and will
